The base can cope with a variety of different types of sites, the tent adopts imported PVC special tarpaulin, the tarpaulin has a strong bearing Force, anti-stretching, anti-rain, anti-UV good performance, resistance to no more than 10 wind, fire are up to the country

International Safety standards. For different types of sites can be quickly built

The tent is a new type of temporary construction for outdoor activities, which is called because of its flexible disassembly and storage and transportation

It is called "mobile property". It is widely used in professional exhibitions, fairs, celebration parties,

Outdoor weddings, sports events, festivals (music festivals, beer festivals, food festivals...) , temporary warehouse,

Plant, temporary construction, emergency relief... The tent is a brand new concept for the international masses, too

In recent years, it has gradually appeared in People's Daily outdoor activities, such as outdoor exhibitions ---- tent is an exhibition

An extension of the World-Expo; Outdoor celebrations, outdoor weddings, festive promotions must be used. It can be based on the original

Mobile frame and tarpaulin composition, the frame generally has alloy and steel as the main components, disassembly is very sensitive and convenient,

Convenient storage, small size, easy to transport and other characteristics. Tarpaulin is a very important part of the tent, it is good. Bad directly affects the safety of the partial tent, but also closely related to the safety of the activity, so choose high quality tarpaulin is very important.
