Industrial storage awning - a good solution to the warehouse explosion

First, there are too many goods in the warehouse to put down what to do? What should we do if the goods are out of stock?

A: 1. Outdoor will be placed two layers of pallet as for the outdoor, covered with tarpaulin will determine the order in advance loading container, put in the yard waiting room

Use the spare position of the production line to open up the zero hour warehouse area and consolidate the warehouse location (occupy the small corridor).

2. Can use high-rise shelves, pay attention to access the need to use a small ladder, more trouble! According to the actual situation, such as in and out of frequent variety use

Low level, infrequently accessed varieties put high level! A better idea is to build or rent a new warehouse!

Two, express warehouse explosion how to do?

A: One word, etc

After last year's online shopping spree, the express delivery industry across the country ushered in the delivery peak, and major express companies were flooded with pictures of warehouse explosions

The Internet. According to the State Post Bureau estimates that from November 10 to November 17, the total number of express shipments in the country will exceed 500 million, more than 13 million

The same period of the year increased by nearly 50%, and the maximum daily processing capacity of express delivery may exceed 90 million pieces, an increase of nearly 40% over 13 years. insiders

Told reporters that the surge in business volume is the direct cause of the explosion of express delivery companies. However, there are too many intermediate links in the distribution of goods, and the last 1

Km is not smooth so that a large number of goods remain in the warehouse, but also aggravate the situation of warehouse explosion.

In this key link, logistics companies, express delivery companies continue to temporary warehouse, choose to use what type of temporary warehouse? Choose the warehouse, which breaks through the traditional thinking of steel and cement warehouse; The application of innovative aluminum and PVC materials makes the storage cost lower, VI

Lower maintenance cost, higher salvage value. Modular design, lightweight materials, adapt to a variety of terrain, greatly reduce warehouse construction time, effective solution

Enterprise off-peak season warehouse problem.
