Details:

Three layers of protection, durable and upgraded

1. Surface scraping coating, waterproof, stain resistant, flame retardant, and UV resistant.
2. Fiber coloring to improve color fastness and prevent fading.
3. Tight substrate layer, rigorous weaving, durable and tear resistant.

Frame material

High strength aluminium alloy

Aluminum alloy is a common choice for tent frames and is favored for its high strength, light weight, corrosion resistance and other characteristics. The high quality aluminum frame ensures the stability and durability of the canopy.

Stainless steel

In some cases where durability is very high, stainless steel frames are used. Stainless steel has excellent corrosion and oxidation resistance and can remain strong in a variety of harsh environments.

Tarpaulin material

High-end PVC coated cloth

This tarpaulin is treated with a special PVC coating, which has excellent water resistance, fire resistance, UV resistance and wear resistance. It is tough and can withstand the changeable weather conditions outside the home.

Encrypted polyester fabric

Polyester fiber cloth has good flexibility and breathability, and its strength and durability are enhanced after encryption treatment. At the same time, it can also be special waterproof and anti-fouling treatment.

Floor material

Solid wood laminate flooring

Solid wood composite floor not only retains the texture and beauty of solid wood, but also has good stability and moisture-proof performance, creating a warm and comfortable atmosphere for the interior.

Laminate flooring

Laminate wood flooring has high wear resistance and pressure resistance, is easy to clean and maintain, and is suitable for use in outdoor environments.
